Kennedy Mbuo is an Associate in the Real Estate and Finance Practice Group, with a strong focus on banking and finance. He works as part of a team advising local and international financial institutions and corporates on lending transactions, security structuring and regulatory compliance.

His practice includes the preparation and review of facility agreements, charges and ancillary security documents, as well as legal due diligence. He has acted on a range of financing matters for commercial banks in Kenya, assisting with transaction documentation, execution and ongoing advisory work.

Kennedy also advises on real estate matters that are ancillary to finance transactions, including legal due diligence on land and development projects, drafting and reviewing commercial leases and sale agreements, and advising developers and investors on property acquisitions, disposals and leasing arrangements.
