Daniel is an Associate in the dispute resolution practice group at DLA Piper Africa, Nigeria. Daniel is a skilled legal practitioner specializing in commercial dispute resolution, international arbitration, and corporate governance litigation. He regularly advises clients in the oil and gas, construction, and telecommunications sectors, providing strategic guidance in resolving complex legal issues, including shareholder disputes, breach of contract claims, and wrongful termination cases. His expertise extends to mergers and acquisitions, private equity, and competition law.

Daniel practice often involves representing clients in both domestic and international arbitration proceedings, focusing on disputes related to joint venture agreements, shareholder actions, and breach of contract. He has a proven track record in handling matters before various arbitral bodies, including the ICC and the Lagos Court of Arbitration.

Daniel has worked with a wide range of clients, including private equity firms, multinational corporations, and SMEs. His work covers high-stakes litigation and arbitration, advising on contract terms, resolving disputes, and ensuring compliance with local and international regulatory frameworks. His commitment to excellence and proactive approach to legal challenges makes him a trusted advisor in his practice areas.
