Alexa Fleischer has been involved in Reindorf Chambers' corporate/commercial and mining practice. She has advised clients on share sale and purchase transactions, recapitalisation of companies, loan agreements and the creation and enforcement of securities. She has also conducted due diligence on behalf of foreign companies seeking to invest in Ghanaian entities. Alexa has also conducted environmental due diligence in relation to the operations of a mining company, drafted mining legislation and model mining agreements.

She has experience in capital market borrowings and has participated in projects on behalf of a multilateral development bank involving the issue of notes subscribed to by a number of international banks.

Alexa has dispute resolution experience and has represented clients before the superior courts of Ghana, and participated in international commercial arbitration on behalf of the Government of Ghana before the Permanent Court of Arbitration. She also represented a multilateral development finance institution in proceedings before its administrative tribunal brought by its employees.

Clients she has acted for include mining companies, power producing and supply companies, banks and manufacturing companies.
