Willy Rubeya heads three sectors within Rubeya & Co-Advocates including employment, finance and projects, and real estate. He advises clients across the full spectrum of the employment relationship, from attracting and retaining talent to effectively managing the termination of the employment relationship. He develops and assists in the implementation of internal policies and procedures.

In addition, he provides strategic advice that maximizes project value and mitigates risk exposure in structuring, negotiating and documenting projects being developed or financed by local commercial banks and financial institutions. He also advises local banks and some major international banks represented in Burundi. He works with national and local government departments, in particular on public procurement and public finance project matters.

Willy provides advice on banks' lending arrangements and compliance with the country's banking and financial services regulatory framework. His mandate for foreign banks at times extends to advice on establishing representative offices in Burundi, investment in local banks and related aspects of the regulatory framework.

His clients range from local and off-shore financial corporations that enter into local and off-shore finance transactions. He advises borrowers from the public and private sector as well as financial services providers and other organizations that have direct and indirect interests in lending arrangements.

He works across the full extent of real estate projects including, but not limited to, negotiation, drafting, execution of lease, leasing, processing and / or release of business premises, leave, turnover, compensation occupation and eviction indemnity. Willy also advises corporate and residential property owners, managers and occupiers, and developers of commercial, retail, industrial and residential properties.
